New York – 212.376.6449

Isaac is an associate in the Casualty Department, where he focuses his practice on the defense of clients in a wide range of civil litigation matters, including New York Labor Law, premises liability, motor vehicle accidents, and general liability claims.

Isaac has represented Fortune 500 companies and other large and nationally known corporations and retailers, transportation carriers, and construction companies in all areas of general liability, including catastrophic injury and wrongful death. In addition, Isaac has defended medical providers and hospitals in medical malpractice and nursing home negligence cases. He is also experienced in the defense of employers and carriers in high-exposure workers' compensation claims.

Before entering the field of civil litigation, Isaac served the state of Florida as an Assistant State Attorney, during which time he prosecuted numerous significant criminal cases, including first and second-degree felonies from inception to jury trial as lead trial counsel.

Isaac earned his juris doctor from the University of Florida Levin College of Law, where he was the recipient of the Pro Bono Certificate Award for Outstanding Achievement, the President's Scholarship Award, and the Dean's List. While in law school, Isaac worked as a judicial intern for Third District Court of Appeals Judge Robert J. Luck, who would later be appointed as a justice of the Florida Supreme Court and is currently a circuit judge of the United States Court of Appeals, Eleventh Circuit. Isaac further gained valuable experience in federal court as a legal intern for the Federal Public Defender.

Isaac is admitted to practice in New York, New Jersey, Florida, and Minnesota.
