New York – 212.376.6429

Jake Abrams practices in our Casualty Department, where he handles fraud investigation, commercial SIU, trucking and transportation liability, automobile litigation, premises liability, and general litigation matters.

Before joining the firm, Jake earned his juris doctor from New York Law School. During law school, he was an affiliate of the Center for Business and Financial Law and a fellow of the James Tricarico Jr. Institute for the Business of Law and In-House Counsel. Jake was an active member of the Jewish Law Students' Association and served as a Faculty Assistant in the New York Law School Mediation Clinic during his 3L year. Prior to law school, Jake received his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration and Marketing from Binghamton University and received his Master of Business Administration degree from Binghamton the following year.

Jake brings experience from both the public and private sectors. For the Office of Los Angeles County Counsel, in California, Jake assisted in defending tort claims against the County with legislative research, administrative code analyses, and alternative dispute resolution of those claims. He subsequently worked for a private practice in New York, specializing in commercial litigation matters.

Jake joined Marshall Dennehey in 2025 and is admitted to practice in the State of New York.
