Colleen Cronin has over 20 years experience representing companies in complex product liability and mass tort litigation.

Colleen has represented numerous clients including product and equipment manufacturers, contractors, suppliers and premises owners. She has had extensive involvement in all phases of litigation including conducting discovery, taking depositions, retaining experts, arguing summary judgment motions, trial preparation and negotiating settlements.

In 1990, Colleen graduated from the State University of New York at Albany, with a B.A. in Philosophy and English. Following graduation from college, she attended Hofstra University School of Law and was awarded her juris doctor in 1993. While at Hofstra, she served as a summer law clerk for the Honorable Jack Mackston of the Nassau County Criminal Court in 1991. Prior to joining the Firm in 2011, Colleen was a partner at the firm of Weiner Lesniak, where she practiced in the areas of toxic torts and products liability.

Licensed to practice in New York and New Jersey, Colleen is also admitted to appear before the United States District Courts for the Eastern, Southern and Northern Districts.
