New York – 212.527.6412

Kai is a member of the Professional Liability Department where she focuses her practice on defending businesses, organizations and professionals in complex civil litigation matters. Kai works with corporate entities, partnerships, individual professionals and business owners in navigating liability disputes, commercial conflicts and professional liability claims from initial case assessment through resolution.

Prior to joining Marshall Dennehey, Kai served as a judicial law clerk in the New Jersey Superior Court, Appellate Division, where she gained valuable insight into appellate practice and judicial decision-making. During law school, she participated in the Rutgers Community and Transactional Lawyering Clinic, providing advisory and transactional legal services to emerging businesses and entrepreneurs.

Kai earned her juris doctor from Rutgers Law School in 2025. She received her Bachelor of Arts in Psychology, with a minor in Arabic Language and Critical Intelligence, from Rutgers University-New Brunswick in 2021. She graduated magna cum laude and was inducted into Phi Beta Kappa.

Outside of her legal practice, Kai is actively involved in community volunteer initiatives, including working with a local nonprofit organization focused on expanding higher education and study abroad opportunities for high school students.

Kai is admitted to practice in New Jersey and New York.
