Kimberlin is a member of the firm's Professional Liability Department and focuses her practice on the defense of attorneys, accountants, insurance producers, real estate professionals, public entities, corporate directors and officers, and financial institutions, among other clients.

Prior to joining Marshall Dennehey, Kimberlin was an associate at a New Jersey-based law firm, where her practice included labor and employment, litigation, municipal law and OPRA. Kimberlin also previously worked at a law firm where she gained experience in the area of family law. Following law school, Kimberlin served as a Judicial Law Clerk to the Honorable James J. Guida, J.S.C. in the Superior Court of New Jersey, Chancery Division, Family Part, in Bergen County.

A graduate of Rutgers Law School, Kimberlin received the G.A. Moore Prize at graduation for her distinguished work in employment discrimination law. While pursuing her juris doctor, Kimberlin worked full-time as a paralegal.
