Scranton – 570.496.4658

Matt is a member of the firm's Health Care Department, where he defends health care providers and institutions against medical malpractice and liability claims.

Before joining Marshall Dennehey, Matt served as an officer in the United States Air Force Judge Advocate General's (JAG) Corps from 2019-2026, including service in the Air Force Reserve from 2019 to 2021 and on active duty from 2021 to 2026. He gained extensive litigation experience in federal courts-martial, serving as both a prosecutor and defense counsel. In recognition of his advocacy, he was named Defense Counsel of the Quarter within his district.

Prior to his military service, Matt further developed his courtroom skills while working with the Luzerne County District Attorney's Office. He also served as a judicial law clerk for the Honorable Margaret Bisignani-Moyle in the Lackawanna County Court of Common Pleas.

Matt earned his juris doctor from Creighton University School of Law in 2015. During law school, he interned for the Honorable Malachy E. Mannion, United States Judge for the Middle District of Pennsylvania and gained experience in corporate compliance and regulatory matters. He received his bachelor's degree from the University of Scranton in 2012, where he was a member of the men's basketball team and was named to the Landmark Conference Academic Honor Roll for two seasons. His expansive professional experience provides a broad perspective that informs his representation of clients.

Matt is admitted to practice in Pennsylvania.
