Philadelphia – 215.575.2798

Steven assists with leading Marshall Dennehey's Information Technology Department, providing operational oversight and guidance over the Network, Desktop, and Information Security teams within the IT Department. This includes maintaining relationships with the firm's hardware, software, and service providers, along with assisting with purchasing and evaluation of products. Steven provides input and is involved in the recruiting process for hiring IT personnel, annual IT budgets, and various projects throughout the year.

Prior to his Assistant Director role, Steven gained extensive knowledge of the firm's network and infrastructure working as a Senior Network Engineer and Manager of Network Services at the firm. Steven also obtained valuable experience in network and email administration at a large regional credit union, and security administration experience at the nation's largest internet service providers.
